Newsletter

8 December 2023

Another week and more exciting news to tell.

Thank you to all who helped with the Christmas Fair. It was a really lovely day and everybody had great fun. I haven't had final figures yet but thanks to your generosity I know we made a significant amount which will be put to great use in the future.

On Tuesday and Thursday Nursery and Reception performed their Nativity play Away in a Manger! The girls spoke up and sang with great enthusiasm... it was really very hard to remember that some of the performers are only three! Every cast member did a fabulous job, bravo! My thanks go to the Early Years team and Miss Toms for helping the girls along the way!

We have had two skylark sessions this week. On Wednesday, I took some of Form VI to Haileybury for a drama workshop. We had a fabulous day which included a puppetry workshop with Hal Chambers and culminated in a session with Carl Smith the co-creator of Stomp! Today Aiden Graham visited us from Southampton University to run coding masterclass with Forms III – VI. The girls got to grips with a micro bit and put their previous coding lessons to great use!

Please remember to give your daughter an extra carrier bag to bring in on Monday as we will need to send wellie boots home.

I hope you all have a great weekend!

Thoughts from the Head Girl

Dear parents,

It's almost Christmas! We have form parties, Christmas lunch and the carol service to look forward to next week. Well done to all the girls who have been given a present from Ernie the elf so far, who is sitting in the dining hall and observing us.

To get us all into the Christmas spirit, here is a festive joke:

Why was the mushroom invited to the Christmas party?
Because he's a fungi!

Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Hannah
